

CHARLOTTE

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS & SCIENCES
INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

The Office of Interdisciplinary Studies (IDST) has a modest amount of funding available to support interdisciplinary research, teaching, and community engagement. Faculty can request a maximum of $500, though most awards will be in the $100-$300 range. Projects must be interdisciplinary, meaning that they integrate perspectives, methods, concepts, and/or theories from multiple disciplines. Simply involving faculty from multiple departments does not necessarily make a project interdisciplinary. An individual can conduct an interdisciplinary project, though collaborations are encouraged. Requests are considered at any time but are more likely to be funded earlier in the academic year. Faculty are expected to submit a short final report upon completion of the project. Requests should be submitted to Beth Whitaker (bwhitaker@uncc.edu) and Karyn Williamson-Coria (kwill235@uncc.edu).

Name

Email

Department/program

Amount requested

Collaborators (if any)

Project title

Date:

Project description: How will the funding be used? Be specific. (Note that state funding cannot be spent on food.)
Extra space available on next page, if needed.

Justification: How does this project advance interdisciplinarity at UNC Charlotte?

CHARLOTTE

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS & SCIENCES
INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

Project Description Continuation:

INTERNAL USE ONLY BELOW THE LINE

This project was was not funded.

Amount of funding

Date:

Justifications:

Signature
Executive Director, Office of Interdisciplinary Studies

Final Reporting and/or Internal Notes: